RECHARGE YOUR OWN LIGHT

For makeup that has been produced to the highest artisanal standards, look no further than the iconic Les Météorites, the first loose powder to seamlessly correct, unify and delicately brighten the complexion via a special bead-shaped formula. It's Guerlain's uncontested go-to for color, light and for creating a stunning veil of complexion perfection.

Now for 2020, Les Météorites captures the light like never before with two new illuminators: Pearl Dust Palette and Liquid Pearls Pen. THE SECRET? A technological breakthrough which, exclusive to Guerlain, uses an infusion of Japanese marine pearls to create beautifully luminous skin. Thanks to these light-reflecting micro-pearls known for their ability to create skin luminosity*, the result becomes instantly subtle glow and a light-infused cocktail that redefines the face and revives skin's glow.

PEARL DUST PALETTE

Within the collection is the all-new Pearl Dust Palette which pushes light's boundaries to offer three illuminating shades that can be mixed or applied separately for customized glow.

For a fresh look, use the pink. For something richer, opt for the gold. Or, for complete warmth, try the amber. Simply brush on, or apply with fingers across the high points of the face: Including cheekbones, the bridge of the nose, the brow bones, chin and even the cupid's bow. Alternatively, apply as an eyeshadow to brighten eyes, or as a blush for a light-colored pearlescent finish across the face. In short, this is one multi-faceted palette that teems with makeup tricks.

The Best Women's SUNGLASSES to Revamp Your Look In 2020

There isn't a better accessory to update your style as fast as a set of trendy, new pair of frames.

A must-have part of any fashion lover's wardrobe, it's no wonder spectacles are so popular. Whether you wear them with prescription lenses, as blue light blocking glasses or just as a fashion statement, a new pair of modern, eye-catching glasses can seriously give your look a refresh.

Let us show you what 2020 brings – there are a lot of stylish specs looks that favor the bold – but don't worry if bigger or colorful aren't your thing — there are lots of revamped classic shapes that are in style!

VERSACE

This collection is packed with fashion house icons - embellishing the legendary Medusa and the logo. Contemporary designs are available in both classic and seasonal colors. The near-edged wrap-around shield model has wide, hollow, spiked arms. The frame has the logo in gold, while the arms are adorned with the iconic Medusa motif. The sunglasses are available in clear fuchsia or black with orange to purple gradient lenses, and in transparent petroleum or white with petroleum to yellow and Havan gradient lenses with brown triple-gradient lenses.

PRADA

Returning to substance is the path that Prada's spring/summer 2020 collection is on track, purity and simplicity as a remedy for complexity. The original and simple shapes blend with the contemporary character of the geometric lines, and the unprecedented color combinations stand out thanks to the desired details and all the classic elements known for the Prada Eyewear collections. Prada Decode's own collection recreates the aesthetic codes of the fashion show. Simple and geometric shapes reflect new femininity and a new perspective on character and style. Prada Duple sunglasses blend durability and sensuality, and the decisive and thick frames keep the polished story on the arms. Finally, prada Cinéma's iconic collection introduces the new model, which combines ultra-feminine shapes with modern elements.

Style crushing on...

ANGELINA jolie

If there's ever a Holly Wood icon who exudes confidence, composure, and charisma along with the most attractive looks in the world, it is without a doubt Angelina Jolie. Whether she's working on a film, engaged as a mother, or traveling from continents to continents for her philanthropic endeavors, Angelina Jolie has never been one for small measures. Earning an Academy Award as the best supporting actress for her role in Girl, Interrupted, Jolie has become one of Hollywood's top marquee names, having starred in movies like Wanted, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Salt and Changeling. She's also venturing into the field of direction with films like In the Land of Blood and Honey, there's no stopping this Holly Wood icon.

Angelina Jolie is an Academy Award-winning actress who rose to fame after her role in Girl, Interrupted (1999), playing the title role in the "Lara Croft" blockbuster movies, as well as Mr. & Mrs. Smith (2005), Wanted (2008), Salt (2010) and Maleficent (2014) Maleficent-2 (2019). Overall, it was a commercial success, having grossed over $758 million worldwide, becoming the fourth-highest-grossing film of 2014 and the highest-grossing film starring Jolie.

Off-screen, Jolie has become prominently involved in international charity projects, especially those involving refugees. She often appears on many "most beautiful women" lists, and she has a personal life that is avidly covered by the tabloid press.

In addition to her film career, Jolie is noted for her humanitarian efforts, for which she has received a Jean Hersholt Humanitarian Award and made an honorary Dame Commander of the Order of St Michael and St George (DCMG), among other honors. She promotes various causes, including conservation, education, and women's rights, and is most noted for her advocacy on behalf of refugees as a Special Envoy for the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR). As a public figure, Jolie has been cited as one of the most influential and powerful people in the American entertainment industry. For a number of years, she was cited as the world's most beautiful woman by various media outlets, and her personal life, including her relationships, marriages, and health battles, has been the subject of wide publicity.

■ From Black Widow To Snow White For The 'Maleficent: Mistress of Evil' London Premiere

The Maleficent: Mistress of Evil promo trail has essentially introduced us to whole new Angelina Jolie, and we are here for it! She presented what just might be her most breath-taking. She attended the premiere in a stunning beaded white dress by Ralph & Russo Couture, featuring structured shoulders and a flowing cape. The layered chiffon and tulle pleated gown, featured a gold caged bodice with majestic shoulders, embellished with silver and gold paillettes, beads and chains. She completed the look with Swarovski crystal spiders. Be honest, you didn't see this look coming, did you?

■ At 'Maleficent: Mistress of Evil' Rome Photocall in Givenchy

Proof that Angelina Jolie is still making statements with her sartorial choices without going for outlandish outfits. Keeping with her streak of sartorial boldness, Jolie wore a huge, lavender bow top from Givenchy's Spring 2019 Haute Couture collection, the ends of the pleated fabric falling from her chest to her ankles. She paired the fanciful butterfly-shaped top with sleek black trousers and black pumps, and left her hair in loose curls around her bare shoulders.

■ At Maleficent: Mistress Of Evil' World Premiere in Atelier Versace

We screamed with delight when Angelina Jolie made her red carpet appearance at Evil world premiere wearing a black strapless Atelier Versace gown entirely embellished with Cartier jewels. Angelina's Maleficent tour wardrobe has leaned on gothic look. We've been seeing a much more understated (ethereal even) Angelina Jolie lately, and we've utterly adored it. However, we're big fans of mixing things up, and this look showed us that there are still hints of the bold fashion in her.

■ At the 2018 BAFTAs in Ralph & Russo

Angeline always knows how to make an impression on the red carpet, and things weren't any different when she stepped out in London to attend the 71st British Academy Film Awards. She served up no surprised in her favourite colour: Black and looked exquisite wearing a custom Ralph & Russo Couture velvet gown. Her dress looked like a beautiful but simple black gown with a hidden slit. She completely owned the look.

■ At the 45th Annual Annie Awards in Atelier Versace

Angelina, is that you? We had to do a double take when this Hollywood screen siren glided on to the red carpet, as the starlet was almost unrecognisable. She wowed in glamorous Atelier Versace Haute Couture bustier dress, giving us soft, dreamy, romantic vibes, and goosebumps all-round. While Angelina's floor-skimming jumpsuit and classic red lip weren't such a surprise — Angelina pulls off regal ensembles like this one all the time.

We are sure many of us were surprised by Angelina Jolie's dress worn to the 2018 Critics' Choice Awards. The actress hit the red carpet in a white strapless cocktail dress by Ralph & Russo Couture, trimmed in flirty feathers right at the neckline. Wearing a white silk crêpe asymmetrically draped pencil dress, adorned with devoré ostrich feathers. Everything came together wonderfully for Angelina's big moment! Can she go one step further and top this look during the upcoming Awards Season? We can't wait to find out!

The Golden Globe Awards was a particular high as many attendees choose to wear black evening dresses in solidarity. Angelina wowed in her Atelier Versace ruched, chiffon gown that was very much in keeping with the actress-activist's straightforward elegance. It goes without saying that the gown was completed with Forevermark Diamonds jewelry that helped her shine bright on the red carpet. Everything came together wonderfully for Angelina's big moment!

FASHION

Report

Straight from the Runway

Check out exclusive runway photos of the 2021 Haute Couture, and enjoy the latest collections from top fashion designers of the world. There's nothing like getting us in the mood for the 2021 season quite like Haute Couture Fashion week. One of the biggest talking points of Haute Couture Fashion Week which made a spectacular entry of great models, strutting their stuff on the catwalk. It was a breath-taking, head-turning and spine-tingling moment to say the least! Another Haute Couture Fashion Week highlight involved the Elie Saab & Zuhair Murad – in particular it's impossibly hard to miss slogan pieces. Subtle they were not. If you thought the slogan tee already had its moment, then think again, as things were quite literally bigger and better than ever thanks to the countless slogan dresses that emerged on the catwalk. Slogans aren't going anywhere – especially not if have anything to do with it. Not one to be outdone was Christian Dior, who made its catwalk show just as spectacular as the collection itself thanks to its stunning acrobatic display. The all-female circus company, Mimbire, wowed the lucky crowd, who no doubt must have had a hard time dividing their attention between the acrobatics and the new collection.

We would have given our right arm (or any other limb for that matter) to have sat front row at that show be Karl Lagerfeld if he didn't throw his hat into the ring, as the Chanel Couture show and collection blew everyone away. The branded press studs were a cool replacement for the house's signature buttons on skinny, soft-shoulder jackets and coat dresses. We wouldn't have expected any different! If you are in the midst of planning a wedding, perhaps you will be seeking inspiration from the Haute Couture catwalks.

The Chanel show was no exception. Definitely something to think about... As usual, we were blown away by this season's Haute Couture offerings. And on a final note, we sincerely hope that our Haute Couture catwalk to awards season red carpet prayers will be answered, as there are more than a few jaw-dropping dresses fit for the most exclusive of awards ceremonies.

Once again, the biggest designers in the world from Reem Acra to Zuhair Murad debuted their most spectacular Haute Couture pieces, leaving us awe-struck, enchanted, and most of all, inspired. There were quite a few firsts at this year's Haute Couture Fashion Week too. Our exclusive coverage is your front-row seat to the latest fashion shows around the world. Let's take a look at some of our highlights from one of the biggest weeks on the fashion calendar.

CHANEL

Chanel's latest couture collection is a true form via the magic of a digital presentation, marked by a desire for shimmering opulence and sophistication. Inspired by Karl Lagerfeld, the collection screams eccentric sophistication, reflecting an explosion of pent-up energy and creativity. The looks mastered a slick winged eyeliner with a fresh complexion, complimented with a dark lip to emulate an edgy-yet-feminine look. The luminous skin had accents of subtle highlight on the cheekbones to add that extra element of flair.

Christian Dior

With free-flowing sheer fabrics and delicate embroidery, Creative Director Maria Grazia Chiuri turned Paris' Jardin des Tuileries into a site of salvation. For Maria Grazia Chiuri, each collection consists not only of conceiving a series of pieces designed to accommodate the body of the woman who wears them, but it also entails a reflection on societal transformations, or a reaction to current events, as Christian Dior described it in his autobiography.

Zuhair Murad

Following his ongoing homage to strong women, Zuhair Murad drew this season's inspiration from the life and unique style of four unparalleled muses. References to fashion editor Diana Vreeland, socialite Gloria Vanderbilt, painters Tamara de Lempicka and Georgia O'Keeffe are peppered throughout the collection and run through each piece like a golden thread. A streamlined suit or a pared down Princess-line gown are radically reworked in golden tweed. Metallic detailing also appears in appliques reminiscent of Modernist architecture, enlivening a bustier dress or a sharp blazer.

Reem Acra

Optimism is a rare currency to come by these days. Through devastating losses few would be able to comprehend, Reem Acra managed to put forth a collection centered around optimism and joy in unexpected and relaxed ways. She combined elements of the brand's special occasion essence with the happy and casual considerations women are looking for now — through mini collections of easy caftans, jumpsuits, Pop Art and both shorter lengths and spacious cuts.

Elie Saab

Lebanese designer Elie Saab explored the aesthetics of one common motto this season in the fashion industry: everything old is new again. So what's it really like to take age-old garments and turn them into fashion statements? Spectacular, as Elie Saab would have it. The designer's new collection had all the references that could keep you on your toes, from signature embellished, ethereal gowns to series of color capsules.

CATLIN CAPTURES SECOND TITLE AT DUBAI DUTY FREE IRISH OPEN

John Catlin overturned a four-stroke deficit at Galgorm Castle Golf Club, firing a sublime final round 64 to win his second European Tour title of the season at the Dubai Duty Free Irish Open.

The American, who held off the challenge of former World Number One Martin Kaymer to win the Estrella Damm N.A. Andalucía Masters earlier this month, started the day four strokes behind 54-hole leader Aaron Rai but quickly moved up the leaderboard as he made the turn in three under par.

A bogey on the 13th, his only dropped shot in 27 holes, was cancelled out by a long birdie putt on the 15th which drew him level with Rai on eight under. He pulled clear after another gain on the 16th hole and then signed for a ten under par total after a stunning three wood from 268 yards left him with an easy two putt for his seventh birdie of the day at the last.

Rai birdied the 17th to move to nine under, needing a birdie to force a play-off, but an errant second shot found trouble on the left hand side of the green and a dropped shot handed Catlin his second victory in four weeks - elevating him to 14th in the Race to Dubai presented by Rolex in the process.

Australian Maverick Antcliff and Thailand's Jazz Janewattanond shared third place on seven under par, while the Swedish duo of Joakim Lagergren and Oscar Lengden finished tied for fifth.

John Catlin: "It's pretty hard to describe. So many years of hard work have gone into this moment. It was my goal to win again at the start of this week, to have accomplished it is something truly, truly special.

"I had nothing to lose. I was going after every flag, I had good numbers and the greens were soft. So I started taking aim and hit a couple in their close. I made a long one on 15 and that three wood on 18 was so satisfying. It was 268 yards to the hole, cold and damp. To just hit a big high draw in there like I know I can, under those conditions, really is hard to put into words.

"(Winning at Valderrama) was massive. You never know if you're going to win or not, to get that monkey off my back at Valderrama really freed me up today to know I could do it. Be able to look myself in the mirror and tell myself that I've been here before and I can do it again. "I've always wanted to play in the Majors, that's the only level of golf I haven't played at. Hopefully one day I can win one of those as well. To have gotten inside that top 100 is a big leap forward."

Aaron Rai: "I'm feeling a little bit disappointed. I can't hide that. But I played solid for most of the week and 18 was just one of those things. It's golf, and it happens, but John played incredibly well today and deserves it.

"It's nice this week, it's the first time I've been in contention throughout the whole week and stayed there. There's a lot of positives to take, I felt like I handled myself well on the outside and, more importantly on the inside, a lot more positives than negatives to take out of this week.

"I didn't really look (at the leaderboard) around 14 and 15. I was aware coming off 17 what the situation was, but that was it all day. I wasn't trying to focus on the leaderboard. I was quite aware of what was happening then."

Colm McLoughlin, Executive Vice Chairman and CEO of Dubai Duty Free, offered his congratulations to John Catlin and also said:

"Despite the fact that this tournament was played behind closed doors there was certainly no shortage of excitement on the golf course. It is great to see golf returning and we would like to thank the players, the European Tour and the team at Galgorm Castle Golf Club for their hard work.

"This has been a challenging year for everyone but we are happy to have retained our sponsorship support for the Dubai Duty Free Irish Open despite the challenges. This sponsorship promotes our brand to a huge TV audience and helps promote the fact that Dubai is very much Open for Business."

Fabergé

Celebrates Birthstone "Sapphire"

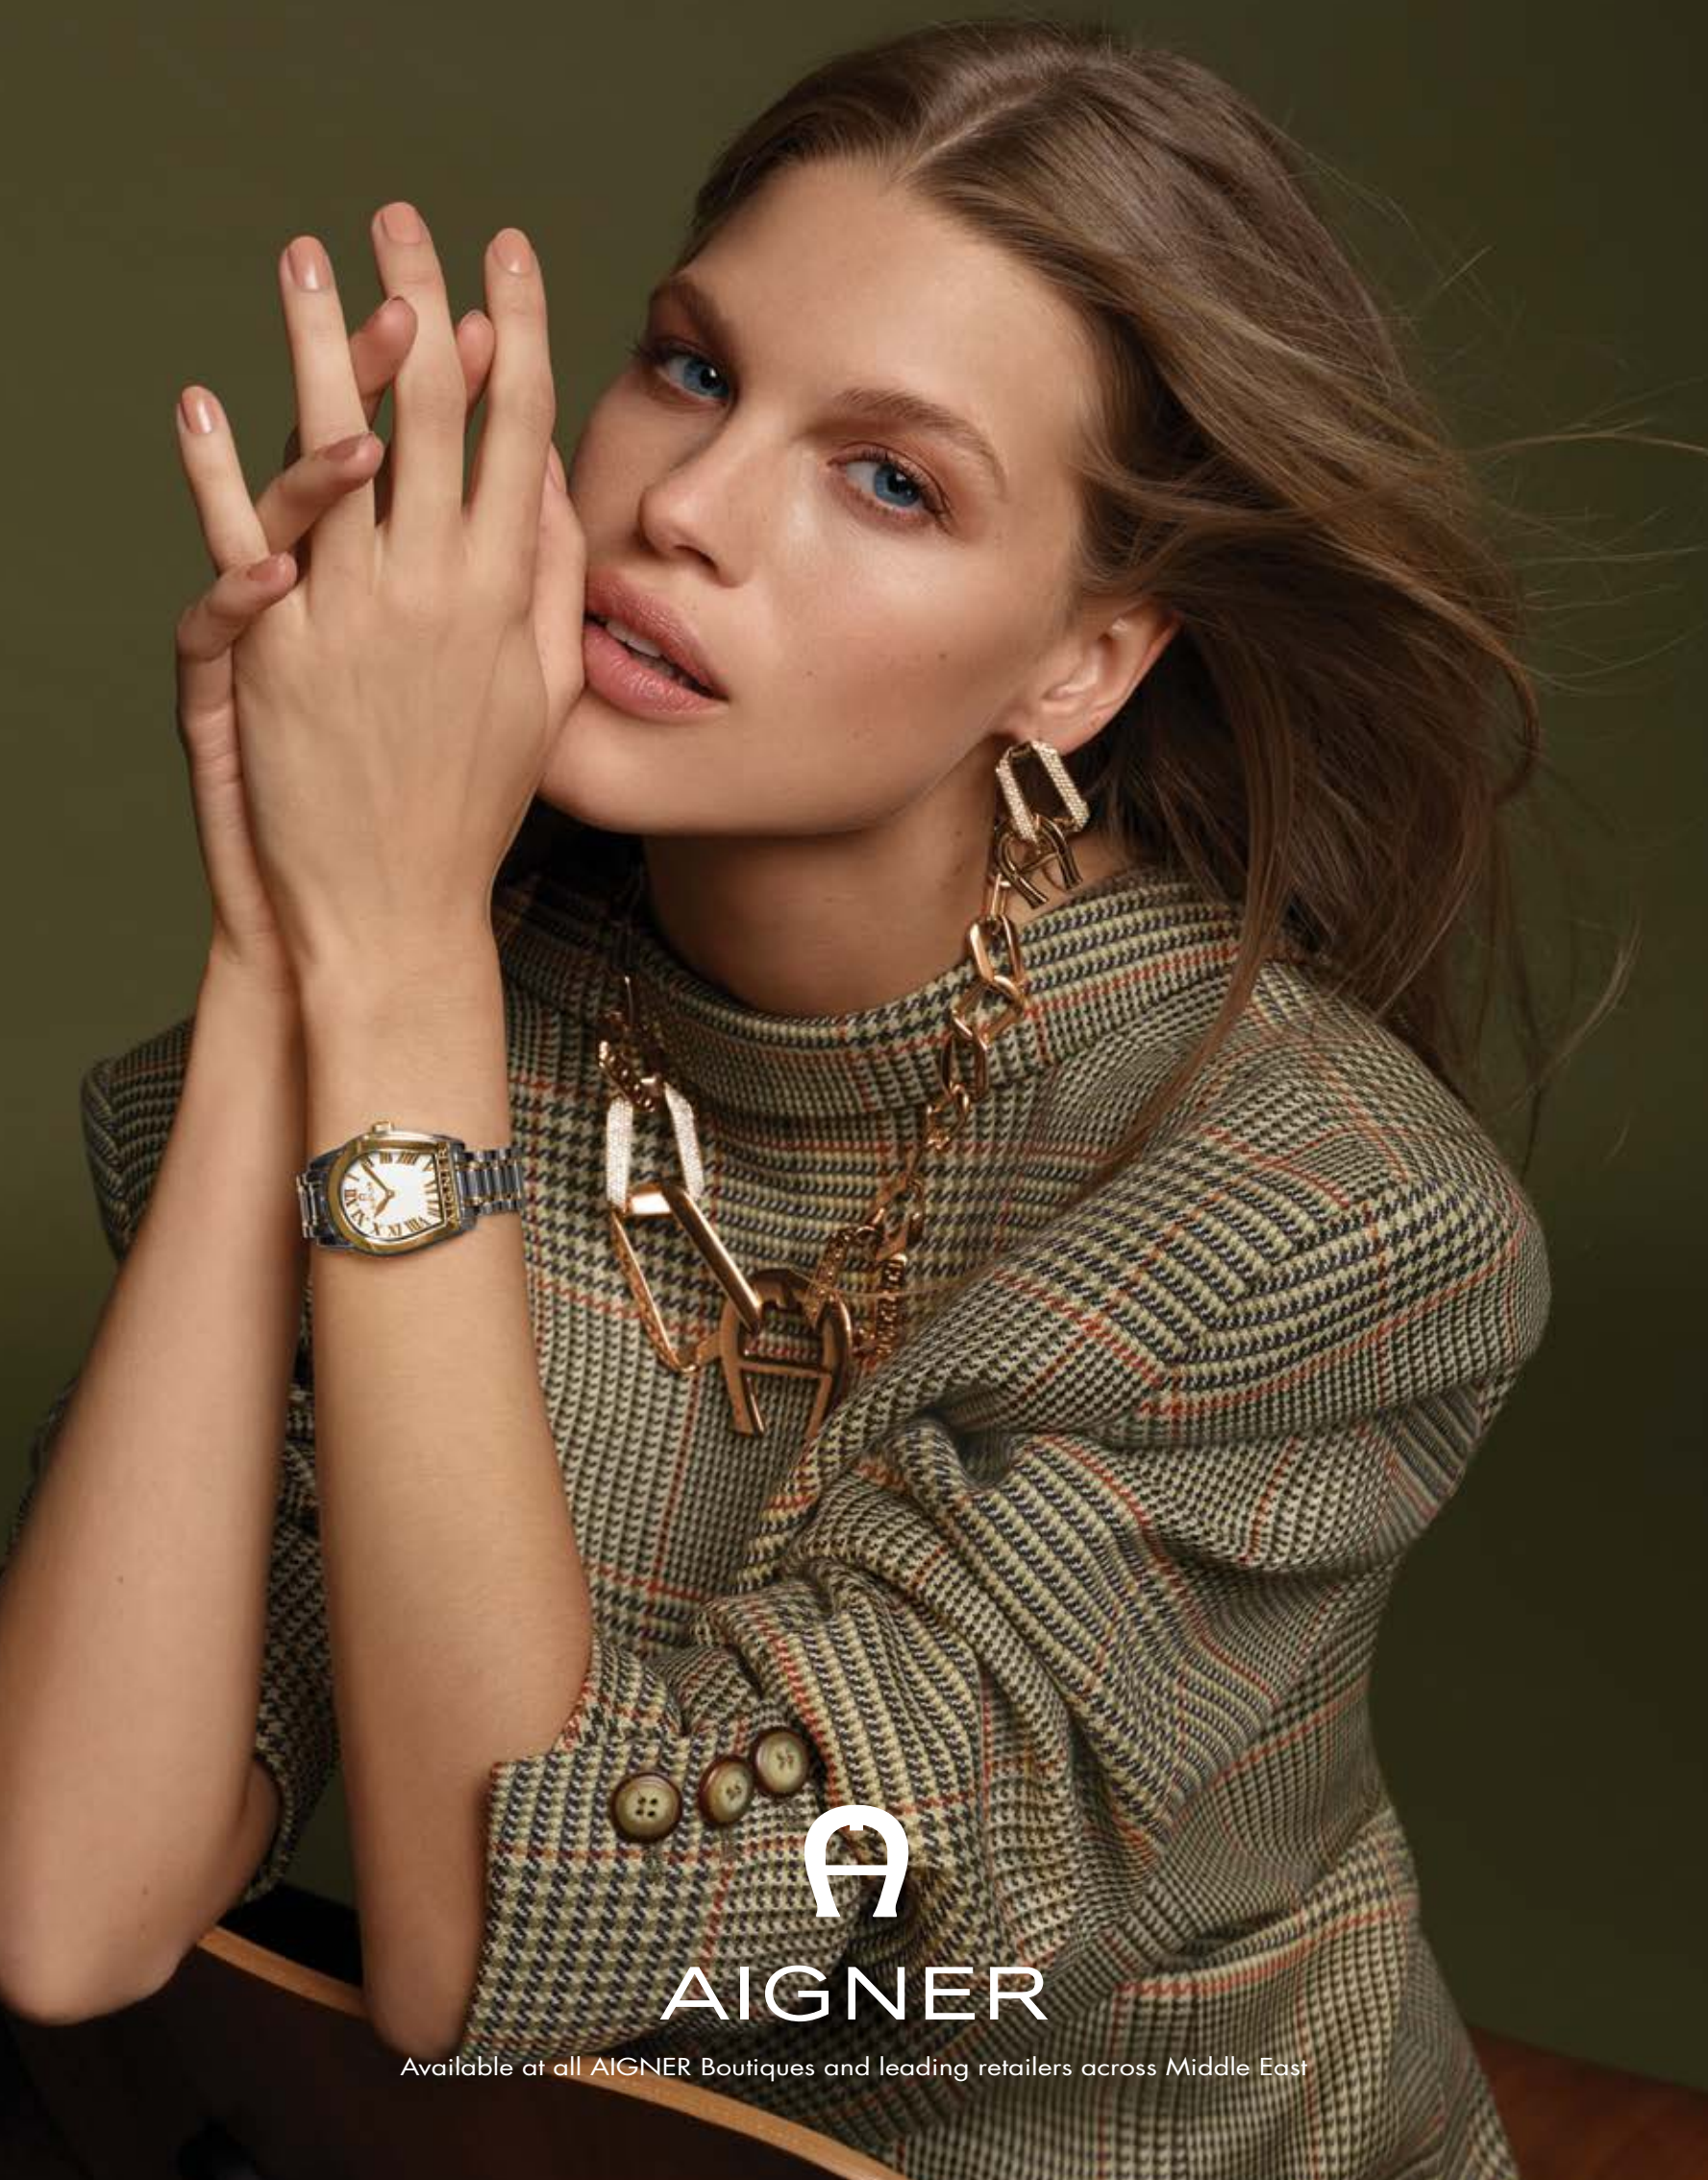

Sapphires traditionally symbolises nobility, truth, and faithfulness - the word originates from the Greek word sappheiros. For centuries, these precious gemstones have adorned royalty and their extraordinary colours are the standard against which other gems—from topaz to tanzanite—are measured. September's birthstone has featured in Fabergé's collections for over a century.

In folklore, history and art, sapphire has typically been associated with blue, however these iconic gemstones naturally occur in a variety of colours. At Fabergé the spectrum of colours and hues that these gemstones naturally possess are celebrated in all their glory within their collections of jewellery, timepieces and objets d'art.

Today, Fabergé continues to champion 'A Life in Colour' with its contemporary jewellery creations featuring a kaleidoscope of coloured sapphires. Most recently, Fabergé has added pink and yellow hues to their sapphire offering. Yellow sapphires are exceptionally rare in very fine intense colours, and even lighter soft yellow tones in smaller sizes are not readily available. Many cultures and people believe pink sapphires hold special powers, that they symbolise trust, loyalty and sincerity - they're also believed to carry good fortune and intense love. In keeping with their fondness for delight, surprise and discovery, Fabergé has concealed a matching Mozambican ruby from Gemfields on the inside of the band. The ring, from the Colours of Love collection, also uses metals comprising Peruvian mined gold ore, which contain no mercury, therefore making them environmentally sustainable in addition to guaranteeing complete traceability across the supply chain.
